INTRODUCTION.

In the year 1863, the Director and Vice-Presidents of the Royal Asiatic Society of Great Britain and Ireland applied to Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, for assistance in rendering available to Scholars in Europe a knowledge of the current literature of the people of this country. They said:—"It is doubtless well known to you, that of late years the Hindoos have shewn great literary activity, partly by editing numerous texts of their Ancient Sanscrit literature, partly by translating English and Sanscrit Works into their Vernacular dialects, and partly by producing original compositions on subjects of a political, scientific, and religious character. But though these books are very numerous, and in many respects important, and though they have an extensive circulation among the Natives of India, only a very inconsiderable portion of them is at present accessible to European Scholars; and the knowledge of these few is, in most instances, due to chance, or to the good-will of disinterested persons residing in India. It is unnecessary for us to dwell on the serious hindrance which has arisen from this circumstance to a proper appreciation of the actual condition of India and its inhabitants, equally from a scientific and a political point of view, and in some degree, we may add, to a proper administration of the country itself. Frequent attempts have, indeed, been made by scholars and booksellers in this country to remove this impediment, but they have hitherto proved unavailing. It is, therefore, our conviction that there is here an urgent necessity for the authoritative assistance of Government, and that by this means alone the claims of Oriental studies in England can be adequately satisfied." To carry these wishes into effect, it was suggested that a catalogue of past publications might be prepared, so far as the means at command would allow; and the Local Governments were requested to furnish the information desired by the Royal Asiatic Society in the form of an annual return, as well as to follow out systematically the long standing instructions of the Court of Directors, for transmitting to England copies of all Works of interest and importance issuing from the Press in India.

These objects had long engaged the attention of this Government. In 1855, a volume (No. XXII.) of Selections from the Records of the Bengal Government was published, which contained "a Return of the names and writings of 515 persons connected with Bengalee Literature, either as authors or translators of printed works, chiefly during the last fifty years": and "a Catalogue of Bengalee Newspapers and Periodicals which have issued from the Press from the year 1818 to 1855," both by the Reverend J. Long. On receipt of the instructions above referred to, the Bengalee Translator to Government (the Reverend J. Robinson) was requested to continue the catalogue which had been thus commenced, and with this view was authorized to visit all the Native Presses in Calcutta, as well as in the Interior. Ill health compelled Mr. Robinson to forego his labours for a while, and they have been taken up by the Rev. J. Wenger, who, in submitting the catalogue now printed, gives an account of the difficulties attending its completion.

The Reverend J. Robinson visited personally some of the Presses in Calcutta, but failed to obtain from them the precise information which he desired. Thus, for instance, the Bidyaratna Press supplied him simply with a list of the titles of the books printed at that establishment, but the number of copies printed or disposed of was not mentioned, and the prices of some publications only were given. At some other establishments only catalogues of books on sale could be obtained, which did not afford the required details. In April last Mr. Robinson proceeded to Dacca, and succeeded in obtaining returns from three Presses there, viz., the Sulabh Press, the Bengalee Press, and the New Press. Those of the first-named Establishment were the most satisfactory: those of the two others were less complete, but more satisfactory than any obtained in Calcutta.

The sources of information being thus imperfect, Mr. Wenger endeavoured, after Mr. Robinson's departure for Europe (early in June), to supplement them in various ways. Mr. Robinson, junior, the Assistant Bengalee Translator, devoted much time to visiting various native Printing Establishments in Calcutta, but with indifferent success. He obtained, however, several catalogues of Bengalee publications on sale at the Native book-shops, and these have been diligently consulted. Mr. Wenger also tried to obtain information in a private way, and gleaned some items of statistics that could not have otherwise been accessible. He also inspected the advertising columns of Native Newspapers, and also the published Reports of the Calcutta Auxiliary Bible Society, and the Calcutta Christian Tract and Book Society.

The catalogue, as left by Mr. Robinson, contained about 900 items; this was subsequently continued till the number amounted to very nearly 1,100, and this was the foundation of the work furnished by Mr. Wenger.

It will be found to contain the titles of Sanscrit and Bengalee books and pamphlets for the most part written within the last ten or fifteen years. The time when each publication was printed, as well as the number of copies comprised in each edition, and the price, whenever ascertained, have likewise been added.

As part of the same scheme, the project of a Bengalee Library has received attention. It is to contain all the most important and interesting books published in the Vernacular, and is for the present to be collected in the Bengal Secretariat Office; but it is the intention of the Lieutenant-Governor to propose hereafter that it should be deposited, and form a special department in the new Museum.
